INDIANS DEFEAT N.Y.U., AMHERST; LOSE TO PENN STATE

Clever Box Duel Won By Indians

In a clever box duel between Cox and Carlson, with the mercury little above the freezing point, William and Mary defeated New York University by a score of 2 to 1 in Norfolk Saturday, the game closing at the end of the eighth inning by agreement.

The teams were closely matched with both pitchers going in great form for so early in the season. For the first five innings Carlson held the Indians hitless.

New York scored in the first inning on Denton's error, an infield out, and Flynn's slashing single. For the next four innings both twirlers worked carefully and smoothly pulling out of all holes. The Indians were going back to the bench in one, two, three order until the sixth when Moss opened with a line drive to center for two bases. He went to third on Cox's infield out and scored when Hicks singled past second. Carlson retired the next two men.

It had been agreed to play but seven innings on account of the cold weather, but when the seventh ended with the score tied the two coaches agreed to play an extra session in the hope of breaking the deadlock. Cox handily pulled past the eighth but Carlson's wildness was disastrous. With one out he walked Denton and Moss, Cox bunted an infield fly that Krassler secured on the first bound but in his eagerness to make the play threw wild and Denton trotted home with the winning tally.

Lowe made the best fielding show of the day accepting no less than eleven chances without an error, and starting one of the two double plays of the afternoon. Denton handled six chances for the Indians but made one error. First baseman, Toorock, was the niftiest of the New York boys, playing his position with the snap and precision of a veteran.

Captain Flynn, of the Violet team, led both teams in hitting, securing two singles in four chances. Moss ranked second with his double.

Because of the unusually cold weather the game was witnessed by a small crowd.

William & Mary Defeats Amherst In Scoreless And Hitless Game

Thompson Pitches No-Hit Game

In William and Mary's 10 to 0 defeat handed out to Amherst College nine traveling South from Massachusetts, at League Park in Newport News Monday afternoon, "Curt" Thompson, the Indians' southpaw pitching ace, carved his name in baseball's Hall of Fame when he held the slugging Northerners hitless and runless through the entire eight innings, never allowing even a semblance of a hit. Thompson, with uncanny control, fine speed and a dazzling assortment of curves and change of pace, had the visiting batsmen at his mercy, and never for once did the lanky southpaw hurler let up in his advantage but kept right after the Amherst lads. For most of his effective pitching Thompson used a low, sweeping, fast breaking outcurve that fairly cut the feet from under his opposing batters. In the victory of his college, Thompson stood supreme. He was the master of the battle and although he received wonderful support from Chalkley, his big battery mate, and the other members of the William and Mary nine, his work made theirs all the easier.

Hicks had a perfect day at the bat, making four hits in as many times up. J. Chandler connected safely three times out of four attempts and stole two bases; Otto Lowe contributed a single and a home run in four times up. Williams, center fielder for Amherst, made several pretty catches of fly balls.

The game was called at the end of the eighth inning in order that the Amherst players might catch the boat for Washington where they meet the Georgetown University nine Tuesday.

Judge Norton Pre- sents Blackstone's Commentaries To College Library

Each Volume Bears Marshall's Autograph

Judge J. K. M. Norton, of Alexandria, has presented to the Marshall-Wythe School of Government of the College of William and Mary the volumes of Blackstone's Commentaries from the library of John Marshall, each volume bearing Marshall's autograph. This copy of Blackstone is the first American edition, printed by Belle in Philadelphia in 1772. It was the custom at that time for publishers to print in the front of a volume the list of subscribers. In one of the volumes of this set is such a list, in which is included the name of Thomas Marshall, the father of John Marshall. In addition to the autographs of John Marshall, the names of James Marshall and Thomas Marshall appear in the volumes.

Judge Norton received the books through his grandfather, James Keith Marshall, who was executor of John Marshall. The volumes were presented publicly for Judge Norton in the chapel of the College by Hon. R. M. Hughes, of Norfolk.

Indians Lose To Penn State Nine

In an airtight game abounding in thrills, the spectacular and heavy hitting Penn State defeated William and Mary Tuesday in Norfolk by a score of 5 to 3. The slugging Nittany nine found Saffelle, the Indian's heavy hitting freshman twirler, for 13 hits while brilliant fielding of Second Baseman Reed and Left Fielder Koehler, of drives that would have gone for hits against most any team, held the Indians to 8 hits and the small end of the score.

College Field Day Held Thursday

The results of College Field Day, held last Thursday, March 29, were highly pleasing to Coach Jones. Although the time for some of the races was slightly slow, this fact can be attributed to the slow track, and the spring holiday when practically none of the candidates got a chance to work out regularly.

Moore carried off the medal for individual points by taking first in the javelin and discus, second in the sixty-yard low hurdles, and third in the running broad jump and shot put, for a total of 15 points. "Scrap" Chandler ran Moore a close race, winning the half mile and 220 yard dash and placing second in the 100 yard dash, for a total of 13 points. Charles took third highest in the individual race by winning the sixty-yard low hurdles and taking second in the 440 and shot put, for a total of 11 points.

The feature of the meet was the 100-yard dash when Hooff and Chandler came to the finish neck and neck, Hooff breaking the tape barely an instant before Chandler. Moss was third. In the high jump Durham carried off first honors going five feet seven inches, Wesson second, five feet six inches, and Lash third, five feet five inches.

The summary:

100-Yard Dash—First, Hooff; second, Chandler; third, Moss; time, 10 3/5 seconds.

Javelin—First, Moore; second, Winder; third, Sherrit. Distance, 151 feet 10 inches.

Pole Vault—First, Young; second, Hicks; third, Hastings. Height, 9 feet 10 inches.

220-Yard Dash—First, Chandler; second, Hooff; third, Spraker. Time, 24 1/5 seconds.

Shot Put—First, Rangeley; second, Charles; third, Moore. Distance, 38 feet 4 inches.

High Jump—First, Durham; second, Wesson; third, Lash. Height 5 feet 1 inches.

Discus—First, Moore; second, Sherrit; third, King. Distance, 95 feet 7 inches.

60-Yard Low Hurdles—First, Charles; second, Moore; third, Rangeley. Time, 6 3/5 seconds.

880-Yard Run—First, Chandler; second, Winder; third, King. Time, 2 minutes 15 seconds.

2 Mile Run—First, Cline; second, Van Laer; third, Brown. Time, 12 minutes 6 seconds.

Running Broad Jump—First, Irwin; second, Young; third, Moore. Distance, 19 feet 7 inches.

440-Yard Dash—First, Spraker; second, Charles; third, Moss. Time, 53 4/5 seconds.

AMHERST COLLEGE NINE

Inter-Fraternity Track Meet April 11

Track Manager, Ted Dalton, requests that all entries for the inter-fraternity track meet to be held next Wednesday, April 11, be in his hands not later than Monday, April 9.

Each fraternity should appoint a captain to take the matter in charge and make arrangements for his group to participate in the meet. Coach Jones is very anxious that each fraternity put a team in the field, as this meet may uncover some likely track material.

A handsome silver loving cup will be presented to the winning fraternity.

J. C. CHANDLER
Captain William and Mary

HERE AND THERE

The team evidently got out of their batting slump Monday. Even though "Curt" had let the Amherst boys down with no hits, the sum of eighteen amassed by the Indians should have been enough to win.

* * * * *

"Day by day, in every way" Bill Cox gets better and better. Letting the New Yorkers, who by the way, won from the Indians last year by a ninth inning rally, down with three hits was no mean accomplishment.

* * * * *

The William and Mary Babe Ruths are coming to the front. So far, Saffelle, "Ferdie" Chandler and Lowe have four sackers to their credit.

* * * * *

The real fight for positions on the Indian 'Varsity nine has narrowed down practically to that of the outfielding positions, particularly of center and right field. Westbrook and Chalkley are being given a close race by Moss, Todd and Bill Love. All of the candidates are being given equal chances to exhibit their wares, and as yet the result is still dubious.

* * * * *

Spring football practice is a new thing at William and Mary, but its good effects should be shown when the team stacks up against Syracuse in the first game of the season next fall. Here's luck to Coach Tasker and his charges.

RAISE THE GYM FUND

Great anxiety is prevalent among many of the loyal William and Mary students arising from the neglect of the student body as a whole to unite in a concerted drive to raise the Gym Fund. At the time of going to press, about fifty students have pledged their quotas. This small interest as manifested raises a cry for more college spirit when there are eight hundred students here at this College securing the great advantages this institution offers at a very low cost comparable with expenses of attending other institutions of learning in this State.

The student body must answer the call and rally to the cause. Make the coming week a banner one and raise this fund of $10,000.

1924 Colonial Echo Staff Nominations

Nominations for the Colonial Echo staff for next year were made Monday night by the present staff as follows:

Advertising Manager—Ray Dawson.
Athletic Editor—H. T. Hancock.
Organizations—E. W. Brauer.
Staff Photographer—Tommie Evans.
Jokes and Grinds—Lillie Lawless.

Other nominations may be made from the floor at the time the election is held.

Flat Hat Staff Election

The Flat Hat staff will meet in the Journalistic Room Tuesday, April 10, at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of electing the 1923-1924 Flat Hat staff. Pursuant to the system adopted by the student body last year, the present Flat Hat staff elects the succeeding staff. The student body may reject any or all staff officers elected.

Colonial Dames Offer Prize

The Colonial Dames of Virginia are offering a prize of fifty dollars, or a medal of that value, to the student in some Virginia college or university who presents the best essay on some subject suggested by the Colonial History of Virginia. The essays must be completed by April 26, and given to Dr. R. L. Morton, of the College faculty. Dr. Morton is very anxious that a large number of William and Mary students compete for this prize. For further information, see Mr. E. G. Swem at the Library or Dr. R. L. Morton.

VOLTA EXPLAINING HIS

BATTERY TO NAPOLEON

How Electrical Engineering began

IT IS not enough to experiment and to observe in scientific research. There must also be interpretation. Take the cases of Galvani and Volta.

Oneday in 1786 Galvani touched with his metal instruments the nerves of a frog's amputated hind legs. The legs twitched in a very life-like way. Even when the frog's legs were hung from an iron railing by copper hooks, the phenomenon persisted. Galvani knew that he was dealing with electricity but concluded that the frog's legs had in some way generated the current.

Then came Volta, a contemporary, who said in effect: "Your interpretation is wrong. Two different metals in contact with a moist nerve set up currents of electricity. I will prove it without the aid of frog's legs."

Volta piled disks of different metals one on top of another and separated the disks with moist pieces of cloth. Thus he generated a steady current. This was the "Voltaic pile"—the first battery, the first generator of electricity.

Both Galvani and Volta were careful experimenters, but Volta's correct interpretation of effects gave us electrical engineering.

Napoleon was the outstanding figure in the days of Galvani and Volta. He too possessed an active interest in science but only as an aid to Napoleon. He little imagined on examining Volta's crude battery that its effect on later civilization would be fully as profound as that of his own dynamic personality.

The effects of the work of Galvani and Volta may be traced through a hundred years of electrical development even to the latest discoveries made in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company.

Both teams were out in one, two, three order until the fourth inning, when a single by Koehler, a pass to Bedink, a single by Fortna, a safety on a fielder's choice to Loeffler, and Hare's single netted Penn State three counters. Bezdek's men counted again in the sixth on a double by Hare and a single by Fixter. The fifth Penn State run came in the ninth when Palm tripled to the left field wall and scored on Wise's long sacrifice fly to the same garden.

Koehler, with three singles in five times up, and Hare, with a double and a single in three times up, lead the stick work for the Pennsylvanians and Saffelle with two doubles in three attempts lead the Indian batsmen.

Reed's fielding of Saffelle's hard hit grounder between first and second in the fourth and brilliant catch of Hicks' line drive after leaping high in the air in the fifth cost the Indians two runs and possibly the game.

Koehler contributed the most spectacular catch of the day in the seventh when he raced to deep left on Cooke's long drive, jumped into the air, speared the ball and held it after turning a complete somersault. Hicks' catch of Hare's fly in left field zone and Chandler's beautiful catch of Bedink's long fly off the left field wall in the ninth were the fielding features for the Indians. Tuesday's game closed a three-game trip for Coach Driver's Indians who won over New York University and Amherst College.

Penn State ended its Southern tour here by winning victories over University of Virginia, William and Mary and Oglethorpe.

MONDAY

For Monday, Mable Normand returns again to Palace programs after a long absence, in "Head Over Heels," her dashing new picture. Fox News is included on the program as the additional attraction.

TUESDAY

Rupert Hughes' "Remembrance," with Claude Gillingwater, Patsy Ruth Miller and Cullen Landis in the cast is the picture for Tuesday. A Snub Pollard comedy is also on the program.

WEDNESDAY

Jackie Coogan, The Kid, in
"Trouble," is the youthful star to appear at the Palace on Wednesday.
They call it "Trouble," but you'll find three smiles for every tear in this poignant comedy-drama of the Kid as orphan, plumber, witness, farmer,
through five reels that are glad some,
and sad some, and regular-lad-some.

THURSDAY and FRIDAY

"When Knighthood was in Flower," starring Marion Davies, is coming to the Palace Thursday and Friday.
Nothing so lavishly magnificent has ever been offered the public before. The cast of 3,000 includes 55
all-star principals.

SATURDAY

"Broad Daylight," starring Lois
Wilson, with Jack Mulhall, is the title of the new Universal success. This graphic story of the underworld is a generous mixture of all the elements which go to make up an absorbing story.
